Student Right-To-Know Graduation and Transfer-Out Rates

What is Student Right-To-Know?

Student Right-To-Know is a federal law that requires all colleges and universities to disclose certain information to students. This handout provides the information that a college must provide to students on graduation rates and transfer-out rates for full-time students seeking degrees at St. Cloud Technical and Community College.

What is a graduation rate and what is a transfer-out rate?

Federal regulations specify how to calculate the graduation and transfer rates. The rates come from a study of St. Cloud Technical and Community College students who started at the college in the Fall 2022 term. The study includes all first-time students who enrolled full-time that fall and were seeking to earn a degree at the college. The graduation rate is the percentage of these students who graduated from the college within three years. The transfer-out rate is the percentage of these students who did not graduate from the college, but instead transferred to another college or university within three years.

What do I need to know about these rates?

These rates do not report on all students at St. Cloud Technical and Community College. The 509 first-time, full-time students in the study were 12 percent of all undergraduate students enrolled in Fall 2022.

What are the graduation and transfer-out rates for St. Cloud Technical and Community College students and how do they compare to rates for other colleges?

The graduation rate for St. Cloud Technical and Community College was 48 percent.

The transfer-out rate for St. Cloud Technical and Community College was 18 percent.

The combination of the graduation rate and the transfer-out rate was 65 percent.

The national average combined rate for similar colleges was 51 percent.

Why don't more St. Cloud Technical and Community College students graduate or transfer in three years?

Some students take jobs before they graduate;

Students who switch from full-time to part-time enrollment or “stop out” for one or more semesters are more likely to take more than three years to graduate;

Other students delay their education for personal, family or financial reasons.
